why should I/we explain this 2u?
 the nanonuts are little whatzits made of science. you know what nanomachines are, of course, or else you wouldn't be getting this important expulsion anyways, but if you got this by mistake or something, refer to the source listed below for special knowledge. regardless of any of this, nanonuts, what they are are colonies of nanomachines. they live in your gut or in your hair or in your carpet, or, if they wish, they make themselves large and colonize your attic.

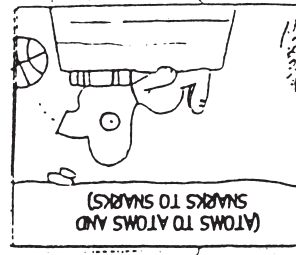

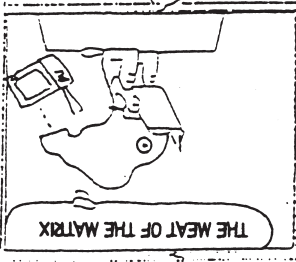

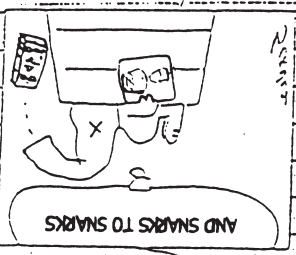

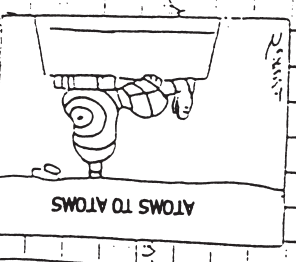

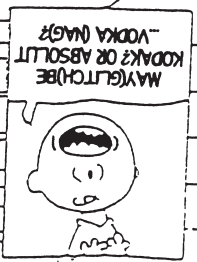

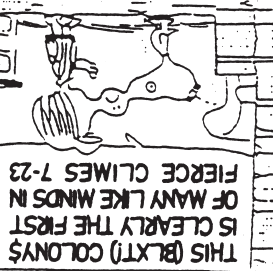

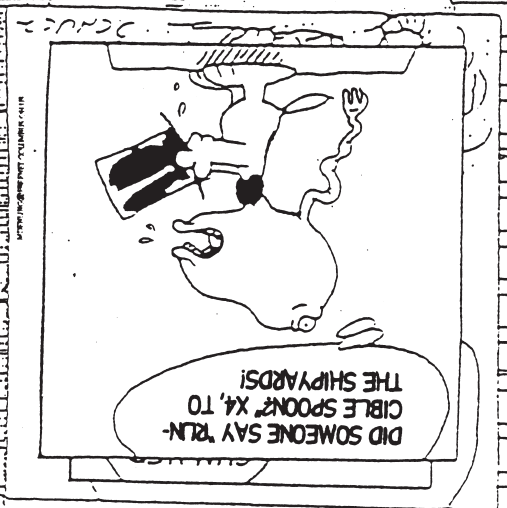

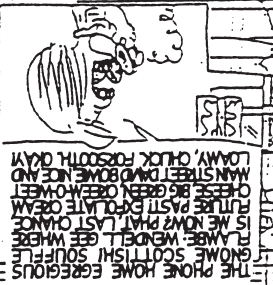

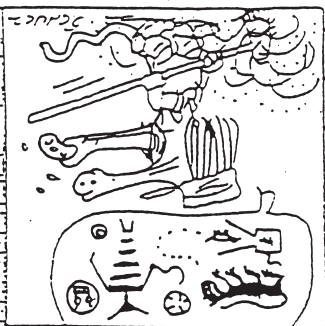

try these, flyboy:

why should we tell you who we am/are?
 the nanostairns are a low-res analog brotherhood dedicated to preserving the fading secrets of analog technologies, such as like the photo-copier machine and the paper clip and write-out, and paper and that stuff. we do not know what a computer is, and further more we are afraid of it/them and what they can and cannot do to us/we. furthermore, if we had cd players we wouldn't know what to do with them 2, and that is why when we want to hear sum music we go out to the back 40 and find stinky bob in his miserable hermit hole and give him a crowded so he will play his mouth harp fer us/me and dance a funny jig-dance.
